The genius of Lauren Child’s storytelling lies in its authenticity. Lola’s fears are not unfounded in her perception. She imagines a school populated by giants and overwhelming tasks. Instead, he validates her feelings while gently guiding her towards a more positive perspective. His approach is a masterclass in empathetic parenting and sibling guidance. He doesn't force Lola to confront her fears head-on but rather helps her reframe them.

Charlie's strategies are relatable and effective. He uses imaginative play, drawing pictures of school and creating a narrative that makes it seem less intimidating. He emphasizes the fun aspects of school – making friends, playing games, and learning new things. This approach aligns with child psychology principles that advocate for positive reinforcement and gradual exposure. Charlie's patience and his belief in Lola's ability to cope are instrumental in her eventual willingness to attend school.
