This is a brilliant way to reinforce story recall activities.

2. Sensory Bin Fun: A Fly-Swallowing Adventure

Sensory bins are a perennial favorite for a reason – they engage multiple senses and allow for open-ended exploration. * What you'll need: * A large plastic bin or container. * A filler base: This could be dry pasta, rice, beans, shredded paper, or even water beads (with supervision!). * The animal props from the storytelling box. * Small cups or bowls for "swallowing." * Tongs or scoops for retrieving. * Optional: Small toy farm animals to add to the general theme. * How to do it: Fill the bin with your chosen base.
